4.3. The Contractor shall reserve the right to refuse accepting any mail for transportation, in case of suspicion of the presence of prohibited content or content that may endanger life/health of people, lead to damage or destruction of other items, but not exclusively.

4.4. The Contractor shall reserve the right to change the type of delivery in case of shipment by the Customer of the goods, which are limited to the shipment by a certain type of transportation (for example, air).

4.5. The Customer shall reimburse the Contractor all losses, fees/customs penalties, or any other financial costs incurred by the latter due to non-compliance with the list of content prohibited to transportation or any other conditions specified in the Standard Terms.

4.6. Requirements for MPV packaging.

4.6.1. Corrugated cardboard boxes are used for packaging of international postal items (MPV), which, according to their characteristics (thickness, strength, complexity, etc.), can be subjected to technical processing and repeated reloading. Indivisible items in factory packaging (wooden, dictation boxes and boxes made of strong cardboard), which corresponds to the established dimensions and ensures the preservation of the attachment, do not require additional packaging.

In order to avoid movement inside the package, items and goods must be tightly packed or filled with fillers (bubbles, paper, material, etc.) to avoid movement of items inside the package during reloading and technical processing.

4.6.2. Requirements for packaging of goods, items, other material values that are sent by parcels and require special packaging conditions:

- glass or other fragile objects (dishes, souvenirs, CDs, etc.) must be packed in a strong box, packed with an appropriate protective material, and also covered with packing materials;
- liquids and substances that easily turn into a liquid state must be placed in hermetically sealed vessels. Each container must be placed in a special strong box filled with a suitable protective material in an amount sufficient to absorb the liquid in case of damage to the container, so that it cannot be easily opened;
- fatty substances that are difficult to turn into a liquid state, such as ointments, soft soap, resin and others, the forwarding of which causes less inconvenience, should be packed in the original envelope (box, canvas bag, plastic material, etc.), which is then placed in a second box made of sufficiently strong material to prevent the contents from leaking;
- dry dyes, such as aniline blue, etc., are allowed for shipment only in hermetically sealed metal boxes, which are placed, in turn, in strong boxes with appropriate protective and absorbent material between both packages;
- colorless dry powders – must be placed in strong containers (box, bag), which in turn must also be placed in a box made of strong material;
- accurate measuring devices – in a hard container with gaskets that prevent damage to the attachment during shipping. Devices with glass parts are packed in parcel boxes with special fasteners. A "Caution" mark is applied (sticked) to such parcels;

- motion pictures, filmstrips and magnetic films – in containers manufactured in accordance with the requirements of regulatory and technical documentation;
- printed products (forms, estimate documentation, etc.) weighing up to 5 kilograms – in a double envelope made of thick paper. If the weight of the attachment exceeds five kilograms, the parcel must have on both sides (address and return) pads made of dictum or sticky cardboard;
- coloring powders – in bags made of polyethylene film, oilcloths, thick pasted paper, which are placed in parcel boxes;
- loose food products, dried fruits, nuts, etc. – in bags made of polyethylene film, oilcloths, dense oiled paper, which are sealed and placed in a box with a strong base.

4.6.3. Items of clothing, carpets and other soft products can be packed in a soft shell (fabric). Such an investment should be pre-packaged in polyethylene film or other moisture-proof material. The soft shell (bag, pouch) must be sewn with an internal seam. The upper part of the bag (pouch) is rolled up and tightly tied with twine or fixed with other packaging material.

5. Identification and acceptance of orders

5.1. Identification of the purchase of the Customer, who arrived at the International Representative Office warehouse, shall be carried out by scanning the track number (barcode) previously registered by the Customer in the personal profile.

5.1.1. The identification procedure shall also involve weighing the purchase arrived at the warehouse and placing it in a cell of the appropriate size for further processing or transfer to the dispatch formation area, if the cargo is registered by the client as "Send in one click".

5.1.1.1. Exceptions shall be purchases that are addressed to the warehouse of the US representative office, where the standard procedure for weighing the Goods at the time of its identification is provided only as an additional service.

5.2. If in the database there is no registered tracking number of the purchase from the Customer's side at the time of its scanning, the representative of the Contractor shall conduct the identification procedure by ID number.

5.2.1. Such an order shall be registered without a description of the content, the number of units of the goods and with zero value in the personal profile, the ID of which is indicated in the accompanying documents.

5.2.2. The possibility of placing such an order by the Customer's side shall be available only after its editing, which provides for the selection of product category, fixing the value and quantity of product units.

5.3. In the absence of a pre-registered tracking number by the Customer, as well as ID of the latter on the box, such order shall be considered "unidentified" and shall be listed in the register of "unidentified" cargo.

5.4. To identify the purchase after its actual delivery to the International Representative Office, the Customer shall register the tracking number of such purchase in the personal profile for its transfer by the system from the database of "unidentified cargo" to the Customer's profile.

5.5. The free storage time of the purchase at the International Representative Office warehouse of Europe/Turkey shall be 14 calendar days and 28 days for the US warehouse, from the moment of scanning this purchase to the user's profile or to the register of unidentified purchases (in accordance with para. 5.3.).

5.6. The maximum purchase storage time at the warehouse shall constitute 3 calendar months. If there is no request from the Customer to identify such an order, it shall be given the status of "unclaimed goods".

5.6.1. The cargo with the "unclaimed" status shall be transferred for the disposal procedure.

5.6.2. The Contractor shall not accept claims for reimbursement of the cost of "unclaimed" cargo or any other indirect damages caused to the Customer through its disposal.

6. Additional services and application for issuing

6.1. From the moment of scanning the purchase to the Customer's profile, the latter shall have the opportunity to issue this purchase for sending to Ukraine.

6.2. In addition to standard services providing international delivery service, the Customer may apply additional warehouse services to each Order.

6.2.1. The list of standard services used by default:

6.3.11. Meest Canada: https://meest.shopping/ua/country/canada#taryf_dodatkovi_poslugy

6.4. The Contractor shall reserve the right to refuse to use a separate additional service to the Customer, but shall inform the latter about it by sending an e-mail or notification in a personal profile.

6.5. Depending on the type of additional service, the Customer may choose it at the time of the tracking number registration in his/her personal profile; after scanning the tracing number by representative of the warehouse and at the time of the application registration for sending the parcel to Ukraine.

6.5.1. The list of additional services that are available at each stage shall be active for selection in the personal profile.

6.5.2. The Customer shall not require the use of additional service that is not provided for selection at this stage or at the warehouse of the selected International Representative Office.

6.6. After scanning the tracking numbers at the International Representative Office warehouse and selecting additional services, the Customer shall create an Application for the parcel registration.

6.6.1. The application for registration involves the selection of one or more tracking numbers in the tab "Orders" – "Products" for the parcel formation, with the possibility of selecting additional services available at this stage.

6.6.2. The exception is the composition of the international representation of Poland and Germany, which do not provide for the possibility of consolidating more than 5 Orders, the maximum weight of which should not exceed 30 kg; also, orders exceeding the side size of more than 120 to 150 cm and 150 cm are not subject to consolidation and will be automatically processed by a separate parcel.

6.6.3. At the stage of application registration, the Customer shall select address of the Receiver from the list created earlier or add a new address of the Receiver.

6.6.4. When creating address of the Receiver of the parcel, the Customer may choose one of four available types of delivery:

6.6.4.1. Courier delivery by the carrier TC MEEEST EXPRESS LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY

6.6.4.2. Courier delivery by the carrier Nova Poshta

6.6.4.3. Delivery to the branch or automatic mail terminal of TC MEEEST EXPRESS LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY

6.6.4.4. Delivery to the branch of Meest Partner, Nova Poshta

6.7. Since creation of the registration application by the Customer, making any changes to the tracking numbers added to this application or editing the application itself (including the final Receiver, the type of delivery, the carrier company, but not exclusively) shall not be foreseen.

6.7.1. The exception shall be the departure from the US International Representative Office, for which an additional service "Repackaging of an already issued or packed parcel" cost 20 USD is provide.

6.8. The Customer, by issuing an application for Mail sending, shall agree with the launch of the process of forming the parcel, which is irreversible, without the possibility of its suspension (except for para. 6.7.1.)

6.9. In case of absence of the application from the Customer's part for sending on goods that are in stock 90 calendar days from the moment of scanning or more, the Contractor shall reserve the right to assign the status of "unclaimed cargo" to such product and dispose such goods at its own discretion, in particular to cover the costs of storage of this cargo.

7. Parcel registration and payment procedure

7.1. According to the application for parcel processing created by the Customer, representative of the Contractor shall form a customs declaration (CN23), the number of which is generated automatically in the format

MYCVXXXXXXXXXUS or CVXXXXXXXXXUS (where US is the sender's country code), as well as perform physical formation of the International Mail using the services selected by the Customer.

7.2. Formation of the parcel automatically generates an invoice to the Customer, containing the cost of delivery services and additional services:

- GBP – for delivery from the UK
- EUR – for delivery from France, Germany, Poland, Spain, Italy, Portugal, Turkey and Greece
- USD – for delivery from the USA

7.3. 9.8. Shall the Recipient/Customer be not satisfied with the cost of customs duties, the latter may refuse to pay them and issue a return to the Sender company. To do this, it is enough to send a notification of refusal to pay duties to the e-mail meest.shopping@meest.com (for Mails from Europe) or to issue an appeal through personal profile (for Mails from the USA) and inform customs brokers. After confirming the parcel return, the Customer shall be invoiced in his/her personal profile (in accordance with para. 9.5.)

9.9. The term of the International Mail processing, which was returned from Ukraine, may be up to 3 calendar months.

9.9.1. The exception shall be the International Mails, which were returned due to the lack of legal grounds for their customs clearance (including but not limited to prohibited goods). Such cargo shall not be subject to re-processing and may be confiscated by the customs authorities of the country of the Sender or the country of the Receiver.

10. Procedure for registration and consideration of claims

10.1. In case of receiving services for international mail delivery of inadequate quality, including, but not limited to damage or loss of cargo, the Customer may issue a complaint within 14 calendar days from the date of receipt of the International Mail by filling in the appropriate form (which can be obtained on request to the service support of the carrier company, which carried out the delivery).

10.1.1. Exceptions shall be the Customer's goods that have not been identified or shipped by employees of the warehouse of the international representative office. The deadline for filing such complaints shall be 2 calendar months from the date of goods delivery indicated on the carrier's website to the warehouse of the international representative office.

10.1.1.1. Claims concerning the International Mail from the European representative offices shall be sent via tickets in personal cabinet.

10.2. In accordance with the requirements of the Universal Postal Union Acts, a claim (request) may be considered within 2 months from the date of submission of the initial claim or within 30 days of that date, if the claim was submitted using electronic means.

10.2.1. The standard period for consideration of the claim shall be 10 working days, but it may be extended (para.10.2) if third parties shall be involved.

10.3. In case of receipt of International Mail with damage to external packaging or access to the content, the Receiver shall draw up the relevant act and issue a complaint to the carrier in the presence of the representative of the carrier company.

10.3.1. When filing a complaint about damage to the cargo or lack of content delivered in the country of the Receiver of Meest Partner, the Customer shall attach the Act drawn up with the representative of the carrier company.

10.4. The Contractor shall not accept claims for:

- damage to the cargo in case of lack of proper packaging or appropriate marking on the part of the Seller/Sender (in accordance with Clause 4.6 of the Public Offer), provided that additional packaging was not ordered at the warehouse of the International Representative Office (in accordance with Clause 7.3.1.1. of the Public Offer);
- damage to fragile cargo, regardless of the nature/quality of packaging, including, but not limited to: dishes, lamps, windshield, glass products, ceramics;
- damage to oversized cargo, including, in the presence of additional packaging, since the Contractor does not have special equipment to ensure the separate placement of oversized goods, including: hoods, bumpers, car wings, doors, case furniture, but not exclusively

10.5. The Contractor shall not consider claims regarding the blocking of the Customer's personal profile, regardless of the reason for blocking.

10.6. The Contractor shall not accept for consideration a claim for violation of the terms of delivery during the period of martial law in Ukraine.
